Session 1: 8:15am-9:00am

Holistic Strategic Management

Charles E. Menifield, PhD
Rutgers University, Newark

Overview

- Managing your program strategically is a foregone conclusion in every program. It is critical that programs look at all of their operations when making decisions that could significantly alter their programs.
- Hence, the goal of this session is to consider how strategic planning can be used to develop your short- and long-term goals.

Getting Started

Vision Mission & Values

Preconditions | Accreditation Review

NASPAA wants to promote innovation and experimentation in education for public service, programs must provide evidence of:

- Program Eligibility
- Public Service Values
- Primary Focus
- Course of Study

NASPAA | Public Service Values

Emphasized in the mission, governance and curriculum; Important and enduring beliefs, ideals and principles about what is good and what is not

- Pursuing public interest with accountability and transparency;
- Serving professionally with competence, efficiency and objectivity;
- Acting ethically to uphold public trust; and
- Demonstrating respect, equity and fairness in dealings with citizens and fellow public servants

Standard 1 | Manage the Program Strategically

1.1 Mission Statement: The program will have a statement of mission that guides performance expectations and their evaluation, including • its purpose and public service values, given the program's particular emphasis on public affairs, administration, and policy • the population of students, employers, and professionals the program intends to serve, and • the contributions it intends to produce to advance the knowledge, research, and practice of public affairs, administration, and policy.

1.2 Performance Expectations: The Program will establish observable program goals, objectives and outcomes, including expectations for student learning, consistent with its mission.

1.3 Program Evaluation: The Program will collect, apply and report information about its performance and its operations to guide the evolution of the Program's mission and the Program's design and continuous improvement with respect to standards two through seven.

Standard 1 | Rationale

- Accreditation standards reflect NASPAA's commitment to support programs for professional education that 1) commit to the public service values of public affairs, policy and administration and model them in their operations; 2) direct their resources toward quantitative and qualitative outcomes; and 3) continuously improve, which includes responding to and impacting their communities through ongoing program evaluation.
- The commitment to public service values distinguishes NASPAA-accredited programs from other degree programs. The expectation that the Program will:
  - Define and pursue a mission that benefits its community through education and disseminating knowledge about public affairs, administration and policy reflects NASPAA's commitment to public service values for example civic virtue, participatory processes and social equity;
  - Direct resources toward observable and measurable outcomes reflects NASPAA's commitment to public values of transparency and accountability;
  - Evolve and improve reflects NASPAA's commitment to public values of responsiveness and sustainability;
- In this way, NASPAA's accreditation process promotes public service values as the heart of the discipline.

Holistic Strategic Planning

- What is your vision?
- What is your program mission?
- What are your public service values?
- What are your program goals?
- How do you measure program objectives?
- What tools will you use to create an action plan?
- How will you close the loop in your decision making?

Strategic Planning | SWOT Analysis

- Internal (Strengths and Weaknesses)
- External (Opportunities and Threats)

Strategic Planning | GAP Analysis

A Gap Analysis allows you to assess a challenge in your organization, create a goal to addressing it; and create a solution to solving the challenge.

Strategic Planning | Logic Model

UND MPA STRATEGIC MGT LOGIC MODEL

Before you leave ...

- Revisit your vision and mission statements?
- Determine if your vision statement includes public service values and an engagement strategy?
- Determine if your mission statement aligns with the vision statement for your program?
- Determine if your program goals and objectives align with the vision and mission for your program?
- Assess your resources and determine if they are sufficient in order to reach your goals and objectives?
- Determine if your goals translate to desired performance measures? In other words, are they SMART goals (Specific, Measurable, Attainable, Realistic and Timely)?

Student Learning Assessment

RaJade M. Berry-James, PhD
North Carolina State University

Overview

- Discuss sustainable assessment approaches.
- Discuss rationale, basic assumptions and basis of judgment for Standard 5.1.
- Examine assessment cycle that links program mission and goals to objectives and student learning competencies.

Standard 5.1 | Universal Required Competencies

As the basis for its curriculum, the Program will adopt a set of required competencies related to its mission and [to] public service values. The required competencies will include five domains, the ability:

- to lead and manage in public governance;
- to participate in and contribute to the public policy process
- to analyze, synthesize, think critically, solve problems and make decisions;
- to articulate and apply a public service perspective;
- to communicate and interact productively with a diverse and changing workforce and citizenry.

Standard 5 | Rationale

- Graduate level education should enable the student to demonstrate knowledge and understanding that is founded upon, extends, and enhances that typically associated with the bachelor's level, and provides a basis or opportunity for originality in developing and applying ideas.
- Graduate students should be able to apply their knowledge, understanding, and problem solving abilities in new or unfamiliar environments, and within broader or multidisciplinary contexts related to public affairs, administration, and policy.
- They should have the ability to deal with incomplete information, complexity, and conflicting demands. Graduate students should reflect upon social and ethical responsibilities linked to the application of their knowledge and judgments.
- An accredited program should implement and be accountable for delivering its distinctive mission through the course of study it offers and through the learning outcomes it expects its graduates to attain. While all accredited degree programs must meet these standards, NASPAA recognizes that programs may have different missions with varying emphases.
- The curriculum should demonstrate consistency and coherence in meeting the program's mission. The program being reviewed should demonstrate how its curricular content matches the emphasis of its overall mission.

Standard 5 | Basic Assumption

- NASPAA intends the accreditation process under the new standards to be developmental, that is, to advance the public esteem for all the degree programs it accredits as well as to improve the educational effectiveness of each degree program.
- Programs that provide accurate information on student learning and student attainment of required competencies will not be held to an ideal standard of perfection.
- Rather, programs will be expected to demonstrate that they understand the competencies expected of graduates, that they have instituted teaching and learning methods to ensure that students attain these competencies, and, where evidence of student learning does not meet program expectations, that action has been taken to improve performance.

Standard 5 | Basis of Judgment

- It is expected that all students in degree programs accredited by NASPAA will have the opportunity to develop skills on each of the five universal required competencies.
- The program shows that it requires the five universal competencies of public affairs, policy and administration and links them to the program mission.
- The program defines each of the required competencies in terms of at least one student learning objective (but there may be more than one).
- The emphasis that a particular program places on each of these competencies is consistent with its mission.
- An accredited program need not assess all competencies every year or cohort, but rather at a frequency appropriate for its mission and goals.
- However, assessing each competency only once during a seven year accreditation cycle would not likely be sufficient for conformance in most programs.

One Assessment Cycle

- Part C: How does the program use evidence about the extent of student learning on the required (or other) competencies for program improvement?

Universal Required Competencies: One Assessment Cycle

For the self-study narrative, the program should describe, for one of the required universal competencies, one complete cycle of assessment of student learning. That is, briefly describe 1) how the competency was defined in terms of student learning; 2) the type of evidence of student learning that was collected by the program for that competency, 3) how the evidence was analyzed, and 4) how the results were used for program improvement. Note that while only one universal required competency is discussed in the self-study narrative, COPRA expects the program to discuss with the Site Visit Team progress on all universal competencies, subject to implementation expectations in COPRA's official policy statements.

1. Definition of student learning outcome for the competency being assessed:

2. Evidence of learning that was gathered:

3. How evidence of learning was analyzed:

4. How the evidence was used for program change(s) or the basis for determining that no change was needed:

Assessment Planning

Keys to Assessment Planning	Important Questions
Assessment Methods	By what measure(s) will you know that students are meeting programmatic learning objectives?
	From whom, and at what points, will you gather data?
	How will you collect the assessment information?
Assessment Processes	When will you conduct the assessment?
	Who will be responsible for each component?
	What is the overall timeline for the assessment plan?
	How will your data be used to evaluate the program?

Best Practices

- Multiple measures – direct and indirect.
- Rubrics or other assessment tools used.
- Validity: Faculty (or other stakeholders) who have not taught the course assess the student work.
- Reliability: Two or more faculty reviewing common work.
- Achievement of performance targets: If your program finds that students are not meeting targets, the temptation is to change the targets or the process rather than reflecting on what substantive changes should be made to curriculum, pedagogy, or the like, based on the evidence you found.
- Use of results: Align your program changes with the evidence you found.

Before you leave ...

- Do you understand how to create a sustainable assessment strategy for your graduate degree program?
- Is your assessment plan realistic, given your program realities? Your program's self-study timeframe?
- Does your assessment strategy include the collection of direct measures as well as indirect measures?
- Is your assessment plan sustainable, with a SMART Program Goals and Objectives (Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Realistic and Time-bound) identified?
- Do your program resources support your assessment processes? Have you identified an assessment committee? Did you charge the committee?
- Are you following best practices in student learning assessment?

Overview

In this session, we discuss the accreditation process for programs that are considering accreditation. More specifically, we will discuss each phase of the pre- and post-accreditation process.

Phases of the Accreditation Process

Accreditation | Prerequisite Phase

- Become a NASPAA Member
- Attend the Accreditation Institute
- Examine the self-study report and each of the data points and assessment processes needed to complete the self-study
- Establish a clear connection between the accreditation process your program's strategic initiatives
- Determine if you have five or more years of student data and one year of faculty data (self-study year)
- Ensure that you have examined your school's processes and data before starting the process
- Notify NASPAA that you intend to pursue accreditation and request any information that you may need

Eligibility Phase | Year 1

- Complete an Eligibility Application and submit by April 15 or August 15
- COPRA will review the application against the NASPAA Preconditions for Accreditation Review and recommend whether or not the program is prepared to move forward to self-study.

  - Capacity to Evaluate (history of program, number of full time faculty, current program evaluation, and resources available to sustain the program)

Self-Study Phase | Year 2

- Up to 3 years after eligibility application was reviewed, programs gather self-study data and can request an eligibility counselor to provide support early on.
- By August 15, programs submit self study report which addresses conformance against 7 Standards
  - Standard 1: Managing the Program Strategically addresses the mission of the program, performance expectations, and program evaluation.
  - Standard 2: Matching Governance with the Mission examines administrative capacity and faculty governance.
  - Standard 3: Matching Operations with the Mission: Faculty Performance examines faculty qualifications, faculty diversity and faculty research productivity & service.
  - Standard 4: Matching Operations with the Mission: Serving Students examines student recruitment, student admissions, support for the students, student completion and employment, and student diversity.
  - Standard 5: Matching Operations with the Mission: Student Learning examines universal, mission specific required, mission specific elective and professional competencies.
  - Standard 6: Matching Resources with the Mission examines the adequacy of program resources.

Case and Case Questions

Case and Case Questions: Item 4

To date, we have completed one cycle of assessment. During 2016-17 and 2017-18 academic years, we considered Competency 5 “to communicate and interact productively with a diverse and changing workforce and citizenry.” We did this using a sample of papers students had written in our Ethics course as well as completed capstones, and a student exit survey. Our data show that students generally felt good about the skills they acquired in these courses. We did see one item of concern—students reported that while they felt confident in their written and oral skills, they had been exposed to few opportunities to explore cultural interactions. Based on this, we have revised the way we teach our capstone course to incorporate more attention to this. Otherwise, we have been pleased and have made no other changes as a result of our analysis.

Case and Case Questions

4. Writing a Response (Item 4)

Scenarios for Site Visit Teams

On the Ground Conduct Site Visit Report

Final Lessons Learned

At every meeting, communicate:

- The site visit is a collegial activity designed to improve programs and, thereby, the profession and public service
- You do not speak for COPRA, you report to COPRA
- The site visit report is a piece of the entire puzzle
- The Program has an opportunity to comment on a draft of the SVT Report, and
- Collegiality on the visit does not mean a positive decision

Reflection

What will you take away from this session?

Mission-driven
Outcomes-oriented
Evidence-based
Accreditation-earning
Program Management

...is not only about voluntarily conforming to standards set by NASPAA for educational programs in public service.

...is also about pursuing excellence in public service through education by executing well on a mission-based strategy.
