

productive links with universities and relevant Government agencies in Asia to foster international enrolments in the MPM and MPP degrees. Moreover, staff of the School will continue to organise and contribute to professional programmes and executive education opportunities that build capacity and capability in public service governance and management in the Asia-Pacific region.